

A Song of Love

Composer Amy Beach

Poet Victor Hugo

Still asleep, when the dawn is breaking!

My dearest, thy portal unfold;

When roses around thee are waking

Arose thee now to joys untold!

O' my beloved, I sing to thee,

Sighing, imploring, eternally!

O my beloved.

I sing to thee, imploring, sighing, eternally!

All nature a welcome is bringing,

Aurora says, "I am the day!

And sweetly the bird is singing

And my heart says, "I love always!"

I my beloved, I sing to thee....

I adore thee, I love thee truly.

God, who has filled my life with thine,

Created mine eyes for thy beauty,

And for that soul, this love divine,

I, my beloved, I sing to thee,

Sighing, imploring, eternally!

O my beloved.

I sing to thee, imploring, sighing, eternally!
